New York, Dec. 16.—The long and hard-fought campaign for control of the hun-dreds of millions of dollars on the assets held by the great life insurance com-panies of New York state will come to an end, for the time being at least, with the election of officers on Dec. 18. Against the so-called administration tickets, made up of the present officers of the compa-nies, complete tickets named by policy-holders' organizations have been placed, and every person holding a policy in any of the companies will be permitted to register his choice, either personally or by proxy, when the balloting begins Tuesday. Elaborate arrangements for the elections have been made by the leaders of the various interests.

The annual celebration and banquet of the Ohio company of associates will be held in New York next Wednesday. Whitelaw Reid, American ambassador to Great Britain, will preside. Among the prominent guests will be Vice President Fairbanks, the governors of Massachusetts. Rhode Island, Connecticut. Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, and Andrew Carnegie, Arguments in the application of W. R. Hearst to Attorney General Mayer for leave to institute an action in the nature of quo warranto proceedings against of que warranto proceedings against Mayor McClellan of New York city, will be made before the appellate division of the supreme court on Dec. 21.

Cured of Terribie Cough on Lungs.

N. Jackson of Danville, Ill., writes: "My daughter had a severe attack of La Grippe and a terrible cough on her lungs. We tried a great many remedies without relief. She tried Foley's Honey and Tar, which cured her. She has never been troubled with a cough since."

Consumption Gured.

Foley & Co., Chicago. Dana, Ind. Gentlemen:—Foley's Honey and Tar cured me of Consumption after I had suffered two years and was almost desperate. Three physicians failed to give me any relief and the last one said he could do me no good. I tried almost every medicine I heard tell of without benefit, until Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended to me. Its effect right from the start was magical. I improved steadily from the first dose and am now sound and well, and think Foley's Honey and Tar is a God-send to people with Throat and Lung Trouble. Yours very truly,
MRS. MARY AMBROSE.

"We cannot afford," General Murray further states. "to wait for war before completing our mine defense, but must be prepared beforehand."

The desirability of separation of coast and field artillery, General Murray says, is most apparent. He says:

is most apparent. He says:

"The combination of the coast and field artillery into a corps, as is now done, is not only unsound as a military principle, but the frequent interchange of officers between these tactically t related arms is considered to be clearly etrimental to the efficiency of both."

If a reasonable standard of efficiency, he says, is to be maintained by the artillery, it will be necessary to provide additional officers and men for the purpose of manning the submarine defenses. He contends that a regimental organization should be provided for the field artillery, and finally that certain new grades should be provided with appropriate pay connected therewith for expert enlisted men of coast artillery.

the entrances of the Isthmian canal and in the insular possessions. General Murray remarks that under the present system it would be impracticable to furnish this number. Therefore he says attention must be directed to some plan that will supply at the outbreak of war the deficiency from the old militia. He thinks that most of the non-expert class of artillerymen may be thus supplied, as well as a number of second class expert artillerymen drawn from these forces in the states which give special training to its guards in coast artillery duties.

The new lime kiln is turning out all the lime needed by the Consolidated, and also a sufficient quantity to supply the demands of the Holderman Filter company at Manning. This kiln is arranged in such a manner as to greatly reduce the cost of producing lime. It is on the line of the track of the Salt Lake & Mercur leading to the mill: the rock is quarried in the hill above the kiln and gravitates to the top of the furnace where it is the top of the furnace where it is umped from the mine car, while the urned lime is drawn from the furnace below into the cars and taken directly to the mill for use.

The foundry under the able management of Felix Forbes has become a very important adjunct of the company. The foundry was at first started as an experiment, but it is now considered a neces-sity. It has outgrown its canvas-enclosed apartments and now occupies four times its original space substantially inclosed and thoroughly heated.

WHAT MUST YOU DO FOR THE INEBRIATE?

You want to do what is best, of course, for his own sake and for the sake of his family.

It is not wise to upbraid him; his own conscience is doing that, besides you must remember that the man is diseased and that a symptom of his condition is an irresistible craving; he simply can't stop drinking; the stage when he could have done that is long

.What you should do is to advise him to be cured of the disease and then the craving for drink will disappear; you should advise him to take the Keeley Cure. Why?

First-Because it cures. It is now in its twenty-seventh year and is, therefore, no experiment. It does the work. Second-It has gained public confidence and the people who control it are reputable business men.

Third-Because in all cases where health is at stake, only the best should be selected. It may, probably does, cost more, but in so important a matter one should not be "penny wise and pound foolish."

You may hear that other cures are 'just as good," "cheaper," etc., but remember we are the pioneers and all these other people unconscious ly give us credit of being the standard by comparing themselves with the Keeley Cure.

Be particular that he does take the Keeley Cure; some people think that every place where inebriety is treated is a Keeley establishment. This is not so, and this mistaken idea is a grave injury to us. There are thousands of people who have taken alleged 'cures" and the failures are wrongfully attributed to us, though such per sons have never taken so much as one dose of our medicine. The right place is known by the name "The Keeley Institute," and there is one or more in nearly every state. All genuine Keeley Institutes obtain their remedies from our laboratory at Dwight, Illinois. If you prefer to send a patient to some other establishment, that is your right; we are unwilling, however, that the blame which attaches to their failure should be placed upon us and it is unjust that it should be.

Do We Always Succeed?

That is a proper question and one which we will frankly answer. In all cases taking a full course of our treat-Durrah; record keeper, Lady Truitt; finange keeper. Lady Hickey; chaplain.

True, but these persons will in all cases tell you that the return to drink was tell you that the return to drink was not due to a failure of the cure, but to extraneous causes. Some people will insist on playing with edged tools: some prefer a drinking life to a sober one, strange as it may seem; some disregard the rules of common sense. For instance, the Keeley cured man who smokes cigarettes relapses. If he tries to be a moderate drinker, he will fail and soon be as badly off as ever. The Keeley Cure will enable a man to be a total abstainer, but cannot be expected to change a drunkard into a moderate ent, a splendid musical program was rendered.
